Bye! Bye! Belly Jelly!

Summer is almost gone and is time for us to think about fall and winter; how to keep our belly slim thru the year. October is the month for you to re-think how you want your body to look like next summer. Start right now the abdominal pre-treatment with a vigorous massage and kneading to stimulate circulation and release fats from the area where it is stored. This allows the fat to flow out the body through the lymphatic system. My system is brought from Brazil, the land of exotic belly, butt and beauty experts. This therapy helps to brake down the fat cells even more in order for the body to purge it out. A layer of a new product from Brazil called "No Jelly Belly Gel" is applied to the abdominal area combined with-US 6000 (Ultrasound) and N.I.S.T (Non-Invasive Subdermic Therapy) treatment program. Finally, a natural pectin passion-fruit powder is recommended to extent the cell wall up to 90% digestible by bacterial enzymes to energy concentration. The professional grade "No Jelly Belly Gel" contains camphor, horsetail extract, gotu kola extract and other natural ingredients that help shrink the tummy area.

How much does it hurt to have a Brazilian with only a landing strip (so to speak) on top, and how long does it last?

The Brazilian Bikini Wax is only painful if you are already "mind set-up" for that so. I've been listening and receiving a lot of e-mails from people all over the country with the same question because they already have some bad experiences in another location. Today, I just got 4 new e-mails and one new client from this area saying they are disappointed with the location they were having this done, the professional don't even clean them all after the procedure, do not remove all the hair, and also do not touch the most important area to be waxed. It is really a shame! Spa, salons and people here are offering Brazilian Bikini Wax due to me, they think they also can offer it as well as an excellent source for income for their business. I personally think it is really an excellent business, but to me it is more than just a business, I do this for love and passion, and I believe the secret of my success is due to the passion and respect that I have with my clients. I have loyalty clients for over 5 years, and even the ones that sometimes decided to try someplace else, they all end up coming back to me because they got frustrated with the fancy locations, and less people trained to do so.

I love to do first time client, because this is the crucial time for them, or you have a good and excellent service or you will end up frustrating yourself and will never have this done again. It is not the technique only; it is how comfortable you feel with the professional doing this. I wish I could teach all professional my secret, but this is natural, just come from inside.

About the time lasting, well it can last 4 to 6 weeks, but it all depend on the moon, and the beginner normally need a little bit more at beginning, but it is not a rule. Well, I hope I have answered your questions, and hope to see you soon. If you need any more information about this subject, please e-mail any time, I will be glad to assist you. Thank you for the interesting. E-mail me if you decide to get a try. 😊.

Is there a weight restriction or size limit for Brazilian waxes?

There is not restrictions, just do not anticipate or torture your mind that it is painful, otherwise it will be. I like to make the client feel comfortable and secured about the procedure and do not take it as a bad experience due to someone else experience at wrong location. You are very welcome, just e-mail and let me know when you would like to have it done. You must have to have a 1/4" of hair to be removed. I also use Bio-organic wax which make it easier and help with bumps. Please, let me know how I can assist you and thank you very much for such inquire. You are very welcome here regarding your status, race, color, etc. 😊.

WONDERFUL!!! Words cannot express my experience at AquaNatura, but I will try 😊...First I traveled from Hwy 290/1960..in great expectations and I must say I have no regrets! I received professional service in a relaxed atmosphere...Lia provided above excellent service and experience not to forget great conversation...so excellent I became a member the same day! I am just ecstatic that I finally found a place I can receive the services I seek and services are done to my satisfaction. Even at home products and maintenance instructions were given and very effective. I will come Again and Again and Again!! 😊

SPOTLIGHT/ WHAT'S NEW

Fanny Facial:

Booty Buff GRIP

You sit on it all day or shake on the dance floor all night. Your buttocks are formed by the masses of the gluteus muscles covered by a layer of fat. There is a "New" treatment that can offer relaxation, hydration, lifting and even treat acne that isn't on the face. Microdermabrasion for the derriere. The often neglected derriere is cleansed, toned, exfoliated with mandelic acid, de-blemished, and polished with wax that is applied to seal in moisture. It is not different than a bikini or Brazilian wax, Fanny Facial works on epidermis and help diminish unsightly acne or as toning treatment. This is not a cellulite treatment; there is a difference between a fanny facial and cellulite treatments. The Fanny Facial is my signature designed for those who really care about they body. If you never had this treatment done, come in and have it just to say you have had your backside buffed and polished!
